How to run fiscal policy in a pandemic? A primer

The year 2001 saw the release of a gripping war movie, Enemy at the Gates. Inspired by true events and set against the backdrop of the Battle of Stalingrad during the Second World War, it is a story of two skilful snipers who are grittily engaged in a personal battle to hunt each other down.

Atmanirbhar Bharat Abhiyaan lays strong foundations for raising our per capita GDP.

Toward Swa-Raj

India's GDP story is interesting: We crossed the UK two years ago, France last year, and will cross Germany and Japan in the next five years. That will leave only America and China ahead of us. But our per capita GDP story is embarrassing.

From Plate to Plough: A 1991 moment for agriculture

The Narendra Modi government deserves compliments for finally introducing reforms in the country's agri-marketing system. If the fine print of the proposed legal changes follows the spirit of Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman's package last week for farmers, the reforms can go a long way in building efficient value chains and ensuring better returns for farmers.

Memories of another court

When humour and banter enlivened proceedings.

Memories of another court

Law is not a dull profession. Generally, listening to legal arguments in court is not entertaining but rather tedious. However, there are lively and memorable moments too, one of which involves an incident in the Bombay High Court in Justice Somjee's court where C K Daphtary, affectionately called Chandhu bhai - before he became Solicitor General and Attorney General - was cross-examining a witness regarding a stock exchange transaction.

Teacher wellbeing during COVID-19

While COVID-19 is grinding much of society to a halt, schooling has entered uncharted territory. During this time, it is important that teachers look after themselves. Fortunately, there are evidence-backed strategies that can help support teachers' wellbeing. Teachers' wellbeing is not only a vital outcome in itself, it is a means to other vital outcomes, such as students' learning and wellbeing.
